

A stylized graphic of a tree with a central node and multiple branches, colored in shades of teal, green, and brown. The tree has a central node from which several branches emerge. The branches are composed of smaller nodes connected by lines. The colors of the nodes and lines vary, with some being a light teal, others a darker teal, and some a brownish-orange. The overall shape is roughly circular, with branches extending outwards in various directions.

Control Healthy

